ABOUT BUNDELKHAND UNIVERSITY

This Step Higher Learning came into existence on August 26, 1975, under the U.P. Universities Act (Government of Uttar Pradesh Notification No. 10/15-60/74), this prestigious institution, named BU, stands as the top university in Uttar Pradesh, holding a commendable B++ Grade reaccreditation from NAAC for the third time. Boasting 27 Institutes, 38 departments, and 9+ faculties offering 99 study programs, BU's multidisciplinary and inter-disciplinary approach opens up diverse career pathways globally and nationally. Modern facilities drive cutting-edge research and global engagement, while a student-centric environment fosters leadership, social responsibility, and ethical values. BU's commitment to community impact and lifelong learning makes it a beacon of academic excellence, empowering minds and enriching futures for a brighter world. BU's vision is to become a world-class institution, harnessing human potential to lead the country in adapting to changing national, regional, and global scenarios. The university's mission is to provide quality vocational and scientific education through basic and applied research, while emphasizing the improvement of human lives regardless of gender, caste, nationality, or religion.

ABOUT INSTITUTE OF ECONOMICS & FINANCE

The Institute of Economics & Finance at Bundelkhand University has an illustrious history, established in 1986 as the Department of Rural Economics and Cooperation. In 2000, it transformed into the Department of Banking, Economics & Finance (Institute of Economics and Finance) to cater to evolving professional needs. Driven by visionary and well-qualified faculties, it offers diverse UG & PG programs, emphasizing interdisciplinary research and dynamic academic excellence. Recognized as 'Centre of Excellence' for 'Bundelkhand Entrepreneurship Development Cell' in 2020-21 by UP Higher Education Council and 'RAISE Centre of Excellence' by MIT Square London. The institute's global perspective is integrated into the curricula, ensuring students gain industry-relevant knowledge and skills. International collaborations offer exposure to diverse ideas and experiences, while language proficiency prepares students for the global job market.

MAIN THEME: ROLE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES AND HUMANITIES FOR SUSTAINABLE FUTURE (ICRSSHSF 2023)

ABSTRACT

The aims of International Conference on "Role of Social Sciences and Humanities for Sustainable Future 2023" to explore the potential of these disciplines in fostering sustainable development and addressing critical global issues. With the main theme revolving around leveraging social sciences and humanities, the conference will delve into sub-themes such as the international scenario of socio-economic and political decisions, accelerating economic growth, human resource development in the context of the technological revolution, and India's regional and global challenges for sustainable growth.

UNO, G20, BRICS, G7, WTO, IMF, World Health Organization, IBRD, and other regional institutions hold significant roles in addressing global issues. As policymakers, strategy makers, experts, and stakeholders, they bear the responsibility of actively participating in finding effective solutions to pressing challenges, including the aftermath of the global financial crisis, immigration, multiculturalism, world hunger, poverty, corruption, and promoting holistic business strategies for sustainable development. To combat the perception of paralysis, these institutions must fully embrace their duties and responsibilities, leveraging their collective insights and expertise to devise practical strategies and policies that foster a more sustainable and inclusive future on both regional and global levels.

Amidst the impact of COVID-19, the conference will focus on accelerating economic growth, promoting balanced regional development, and sustainable urbanization. Key areas of discussion will encompass India's Socio-Economic and Political development, forging harmonious relationships with other nations. Topics such as the Banking and Financial sector, measures to improve Non-Banking Financial companies, credit accessibility to agriculture and MSMEs, and the implications of technology on the financial sector will be explored.

The growing relevance of cryptocurrency in the global market and its impact on the economy will be another focal point of discussion. Additionally, the conference will delve into trends and strategies for accelerating economic growth, including addressing domestic economic challenges during the pandemic, formulating effective export and trade policies, and initiatives to boost private investment and consumption.

Discussions will also encompass infrastructure development, health issues, rural development, and reducing disparities in economic and social development across regions.

Furthermore, the conference will examine India's regional and global challenges and issues for sustainable growth. Topics will encompass Foreign Policy, Skill Development, India's Leadership InG20, Poverty and Inequality, Innovation and Digitalization, Global Interdependence, Cultural Standardization, Happiness, and Government Initiatives, Pollution and Climate Change Policies, Literacy and Education, Corruption, Gender Discrimination, Terrorism, Communalism, India's Performance in International Forums, and Unemployment.

In conclusion, the conference aims to foster dynamic and systematic scientific approaches, facilitating global collaborations to address pressing challenges and steer sustainable development towards a prosperous and equitable future. The conference will also focus on accelerating economic growth amidst the impact of COVID-19, promoting balanced regional development and sustainable urbanization. Discussions will encompass India's Socio-Economic and Political Development and its collaboration with other nations for mutual harmony. Key areas like the Banking and Financial sector, measures to improve non-banking financial companies, credit accessibility to agriculture and MSMEs, and the implications of technology on the financial sector will be examined. The growing relevance of cryptocurrency in the global market and its effects on the economy will be another focal point. Furthermore, the conference will delve into trends and strategies for accelerating economic growth, including domestic economic situations and challenges during the pandemic, policies for exports and trade, and initiatives to boost private investment and consumption. Discussions on infrastructure development, health issues, rural development, and reducing disparities in economic and social development across regions will also be included.

India's regional and global challenges and issues for sustainable growth will be explored, covering aspects like foreign policy, skill development, urbanization, India's leadership in G20, poverty and inequality, innovation and digitalization, global interdependence, cultural standardization, happiness and government initiatives, pollution and climate change policies, literacy and education, corruption, gender discrimination, terrorism, communalism, India's performance in international forums, and unemployment.
